Program - February 5 by Rick Neldon

Last Tuesday's guest speaker was former VP of the Rotary International Board of Directors, Eric Adamson. Eric, a McLean native now living in Front Royal, VA, last spoke to our club 3 years ago. He shared his thoughts about serving on the Rotary Board and about the future of Rotary. While on the board, the first female member in the 105 year history of Rotary served. This year there were three female members of the board. "Peace Through Service" is this year's theme set by President Sakuji Tanaka. By using our occupation in the service of others and by being useful to others, we can help bring peace to our world. Our focus is: friendship, ethics, service and peace. Eric also directed us to the Rotary website to look at the Rotary Code of Ethics: (http://www.rotary.org/ridocuments/en\_pdf/trf\_code.pdf). This 301 page document provides direction to all Rotary clubs and members.

Announcements - February 5 by Bob Nath

- Brian Pence told us that gift card orders will be placed next week. Buying these helps fund our charitable giving.
- Vance Zavala said that on February 16, the bus for Share will be at the Giant. He also needs corporate sponsors for the food drive and volunteers to help unload the bus. The food drive needs items that cannot be bought with food stamps.
- President Jan said the Langley HS Internships sign up sheet was going around – the need is for businesses to sponsor 2-week internships
- Bob Rosenbaum needs people to sign up to receive Citrus Sale items – 2 weeks to delivery (by Bob himself!)
- RI former VP Eric Adamson presented the Paul Harris Fellowship to Doug Woods. This award is sponsored once a year by Marcus Kraus. Mr. Kraus has awarded one fellowship per year since 1964. Mr. Woods is President of the American Manufacturing Technology Association in McLean.

Hannv Talk – February 5 by Bob Nath

the Joker is still in the deck. So the big pot is still waiting for a winner this week.

- Mike Holleran was happy to have won several football bets from fellow Rotarians.
- Todd Dempsey was pleased to take a phone call from his wife informing him that his daughter had “aced” her pre-calculus test.
- Sandy Duckworth was pleased to be back at the McLean Club and to congratulate Doug on receiving the Paul Harris Fellow.
- Bill Reed was glad to report that his daughter’s recent test for cancer was benign. No cancer!
- Pamela Danner reported that she recently spoke with Ed Shahin and that he is in good spirits during his rehabilitation. Ed already has his season tickets for this year’s Nationals games. Pamela also remarked that the Interact students from both local high schools were a great help at our recent Chocolate Festival.
- Vance Zavala spent four days at the Homestead.
- Doug Megill was pleased his children made the A/B honor roll in school. He also spent a romantic weekend in Middleburg with his wife.
- Dominic Alexander was happy for a good Super Bowl.
- Angie Lee saw the Shen Yun 2013 performance at the Kennedy Center and reported that it was excellent.
- Obie O’Byron suffered a fire at his weekend home in the Shenandoah Valley about a year ago. He is quite pleased that all the repairs are almost complete.
- Cherry Baumbush is exhibiting at an art show at the Embassy of Sweden, and will then be off to join her husband in Arizona.
- Bob Hahne asked that if you sign up for the District Conference to please also help with the demonstration project for Stop Hunger Now.
- Dale Lazar informed us that he has just returned from a trip to Brussels for a law firm event.
- Dana Sippel thanked all who helped with the Chocolate Festival.
- Lynn Heinrichs thanked Dana for all his work and is happy that the District Governor attended and bought candy.
- Bob Nath thanked Dana and is also happy that his daughter Jennifer and her husband are visiting through the Super Bowl.
