

HERE ARE SOME BASIC IDEAS TO BEGIN YOUR BRAINSTORMING OF WAYS “YOUR” #ROTARY CONNECTS THE WORLD

- Virtual meetings with Zoom, Kudo, Skype, GoToMeeting, etc. Try to maintain a weekly format.
- Invite yourself and your members to the Z33/34 Facebook group. It is there as a source for information which can be used by clubs and individuals. Regular postings of current information/things to do to “Engage”/Items to share.
- If virtual meetings aren’t feasible, practical, consider going to the Rotary.org Learning Center and copy a video, paste it into an email to your members, and do that once a week.
- Post a TED Talk each week from a member of your own club, maybe a club officer or director
- Record local leaders and speakers in your area and email it out once a week
- Go to the RI Zones 33/34 Facebook group and clip and copy, or repost items to your own club’s Facebook group
- Invite members to address cards to “Resident” and send them to local senior care facilities with a personal note.
- Zone 33 & 34 Coordinators, in all areas, may be found at this link: <https://www.rizones33-34.org/zone-coordinators/>
- If you have kids at home, perhaps think about having them color pictures and/or write messages to folks in nursing homes, and then mail these treasures to those who are isolated from their families due to the Coronavirus.
- Go to Rotary.org and sign up for some of the weekly emails sent out by staff. We make an effort to post them to the Facebook feed every week, but you can have them come directly to you and share with your members
- Rotary.org lists over 280 eClubs around the world. Visit some of them at their online meetings. You might bring new ideas back to your club
- Happy Bucks, CART FUND, and other cash donations can be done electronically via PayPal/Cash App/or even through the chat function of Zoom, members can text in their contributions and the club treasurer can add them to their club account.
- RIT David & RID Stephanie will be hosting this meeting on Friday mornings and Monday Noon each week. Invite your members to attend.
- Buddy system. Have club board designate a chain for folks to CALL each other weekly (or more often.) A way to keep members who don't use social media in the loop.
- If you have paperback books that you have already read, find a 'little library' and place them there for other...
- Organize a "virtual tip jar" (get someone with IT expertise to do this...) Urge local wait staff at your meeting place or other to sign up and folks can 'donate' through the virtual tip jar to their favorite servers...
  - CONSIDER THE VIRTUAL TIP JAR TO GO TO YOUR LOCAL FOOD BANK... toward our #10MillionMeal Challenge
