

Loaves & Fishes: Rescue Route Driver volunteer registration process.

Volunteer Rescue Route Drivers rescue food that would be otherwise wasted by picking it up from a designated donor site and delivering it to one of Loaves & Fishes' 107 partner agencies. Rescue routes are primarily run in the mornings, 7 days a week, 364 days a year, and take approximately 1 – 1.5 hours to complete.

There is a lot of flexibility with a rescue route. You can choose either a regular weekly route, or run a route when your schedule permits. There is no commitment or obligation - you choose when you take a route. Loaves & Fishes sends a weekly e-blast notification of available routes and you can choose if/which one you can commit to completing.

Requirements to be a rescue route driver include: a valid driver's license and proof of insurance, and attending an orientation (held on weekday mornings). Upon taking a route, volunteers are required to report donation poundage information through our online reporting system. All rescue route volunteers must be at least 18 years of age. But minors are certainly welcome when accompanied by an adult.

The next available orientation is not until late August. If you are still interested, you can fill out an application at: <https://loavesandfishesgreenville.com/volunteer-3/>
