6/20/19 Meeting Minutes:

Visitors: Baby Coco Smith on her first birthday. Donna Mosora, Coco's grandmother visiting Baby CoCo (and CoCo's parents). She runs a non-profit in Switzerland helping women in Africa and addressing the overabundance of plastic. Lorna's guest, Ken Ginsburg from Real Living Wareck D'Ostilio commercial real estate firm. Welcome, Ken! And another star visitor, young Peter Bishop, Rotarian in training. Zachary German, Dan's recently U. Florida grad son (and now on an IT job hunt)

Visiting Rotarians: Shabnam Miglani, from the Rotary La Jolla club. She is here in Milford for the summer while her daughter attends a Yale summer session. (Is she ready to pay the Yale fine?? Shabnam is a Yalie as well, Frosty. You know, "birds of the feather, flock together".) And Chris Cody was here and great to see him again!

Happy/Sad Fines: Celebrating CoCo's first birthday!! She has come a loooong way in the past 12 months. Curran thanked Rotarians for helping out in his recent household move; in particular Ray for many days of moving boxes and the use of Mike Granata's truck. Jim had 2 of his 9 grandchildren recently visiting for a week. Dan was very happy to have son Zachary resting for a week and attending Dan's campaign kick-off. Win III (who else??) is happy about a certain Jets player performance in the mini-camp. Chris Cody is happy that all the permits needed for our LB are in. His sleepless nights end.

Extra Extra: Ray, Rookie Rotarian Extraordinaire, has volunteered to write your weekly CHAT. Please help Ray this year with names and context.

Jeff Wilson Rotarian and owner of Wines and More across the street is donating all the wine served at the LB. Please please support his business. His donation is valued at $3,000 which is fabulous!! Thank you Jeff!

Our annually Lobster Bake has generated over the years $2 million+ That is something we can all be very proud of.

Speaker: Paul Mayer, President of the Shegg Group. The Shegg Group works with people in career transitions, in addition to training in corporate issues as workplace bullying, active shooter training, investigations into unethical behavior within the workplace. The good news is that people are finding good corporate jobs in CT. They also work helping recent college grads find jobs and prepare to find jobs. The key to successful career transitions is networking, being open, resiliency and having a sense of humor (and many more but these are the ones that really stuck out). Now is a gig economy; the company you really work for is you. Your company's loyalty is to your profitability; workers are now secondary as certainly demonstrated by recent corporate moves here in CT. If you want to see a funny video that exemplifies the difference between millennial workers and the Boomers, check out on Facebook the Adopt a Millennial video.
