New Member Applicants and Sponsor Responsibilities: The Membership Committee has revised the mentor program for new members. Instead of the committee assigning a mentor, the new member's sponsor will now be responsible for that role. Sponsor/mentor responsibilities will include assisting the new member with finding the right fit for two committee assignments, accompanying the new member to a fellowship event, and also sitting with the new member at two or more of our regular meetings in order to introduce them to fellow Rotarians. We hope that these changes will help to quickly integrate the new members into our club.

Vaccine Mandates

Laurie Morrison MD from PeaceHealth (a Northwest health system) presented at the Kinsman Ethics conference this spring sponsored by OHSU. She discussed ethical considerations for mandating a vaccine. This included benefits and harms to varied stakeholders, critiquing ethical arguments for and against mandates for healthcare workers or the other populations, and implications of various mandate approaches. This is a summary of her talk.

Basic assumptions were that a particular vaccine is safe and effective, and mandates are legal. Both were true for COVID, although still contested. Mandates were set by state governments for schools or healthcare workers, or by many employers. Individuals do have a moral obligation to be vaccinated (common good/group beneficence, protection of the vulnerable and duty of easy rescue).

Ethical preconditions to vaccine mandates are:

- There is a grave threat to public health.

The vaccine is safe and effective.

- Mandatory vaccination has a superior cost/benefit profile compared to with other alternatives (PPE, social distancing, voluntary vaccination, isolation of the vulnerable, laissez-faire approach).
- The level of coercion is proportionate (e.g. enhanced PPE, regular testing, loss of access to resources, loss of employment, fines, criminal charges, compulsory vaccination).
- Justice concerns are adequately addressed (economic costs are bearable, just process for exemptions, just plan for access for a disadvantaged population, compensation or considerations those who experience adverse effects).

If individuals honored their moral obligations, mandates would be unnecessary.
