RORARY CHARITIES GETS A BIG CHECK

Last week's meeting featured a visit by Motor Classic founder and president Aaron Weiss who presented San Marino Rotary Charities with a check for $65,000. There was some confusion as Isaac Hung asked Aaron if there was a zero missing. Aaron was not offended and was actually in such good spirits from the success of this year's Motor Classic that he celebrated by telling us his favorite joke. Planning for the 2023 Motor Classic begins now. Contact President Rob, Treasurer Dennis, or Secretary Stephanie if you want to get more involved.

The meeting also featured Rotary Foundation giving-level recognition for John Chang and Mario Rueda. It was pointed out that Fire Chief Rueda is now also the acting City Manager. Denise Wadsworth's husband Ritchie was made a Paul Harris Fellow.

Welcome New Member Grant Fujiwara.

Grant Fujiwara was officially inducted into our club. Grant is a 1996 graduate of SMHS and a 2002 graduate of the University of LaVerne, currently working as a quality supervisor in the medical/pharmaceutical industry. Grant is a candidate for San Marino city council. His sponsor is past president and current Sergeant of Arms, Fred Sohl.

I STAND CORRECTED

Our beloved treasurer and chief auctioneer Dennis informed me that the proceeds from the banners he recently auctioned will go to Rotary Charities and not to the Motor Classic. That means the money will not be shared with the Humane Society and various other organizations, but ALL will go to Rotary Charities. So instead of waiting for better memorabilia I want to you all to BACK... UP...THE...TRUCK.. AND BUUUUUUUUYYYYYYYYYYYY whatever memorabilia Dennis is auctioning.

BRAIN BODY SCIENCE

Our speaker was Mona Delahooke, a bestselling author of "Brain-Body Parenting" and "Beyond Behavior: Using Brain Science and Compassion to Understand and Solve Children's Behavioral Challenges." She began by asking the audience what areas of children's behavior challenges they were interested in. Then she introduced her theories gained from over 20 years as a licensed clinical therapist and taking advantage of her study of brain-body connection for a greater understanding of the underlying causality of behaviors. Local newshound Mitch Lehman was in the audience and writing feverishly on his laptop which leads me to believe he will have a story about the presentation in the upcoming issue of the Tribune.

OUT OF THIS WORLD

Although we live in the birthplace of modern astronomy, most of us aren't aware of the facilities and institutions in our backyard that study the heavens. Fortunately, Rotary TAT (Thursdays Around Town) for October 27th has arranged a tour of the Carnegie Observatories with lunch provided. This is a midday event, from 11 am to 1 pm. But space is limited, and you must RSVP to Gilda Moshir at gmoshir@gmail.com.

UPCOMING PROGRAM Be sure to invite guests

October 20: Jim Osterling wears many hats. The hat he will don for this program spotlights his expertise in real estate development as the owner of Bridge Financial Advisors. Jim will discuss the recent groundbreaking for Pasadena Studios, an 18-unit affordable housing project for which his company served as the co-developer. Jim will also discuss the housing shortage in California and the recent legislation in Sacramento intended to reduce the housing shortage. He will highlight the impact of that legislation on local communities, including San Marino. Jim is a PCC trustee and for 10 years was an Adjunct Professor of Urban planning and Real Estate Development at the USC School of Planning.
