Guest Speaker - Joshua Cogswell, Ph.D.

Dr. Joshua E. Cogswell is Assistant Professor of Management in the College of Business Administration at Nicholls State University. He teaches courses in general management, organizational behavior, human resource management, and leadership. His research interests include workplace perceptions (and misperceptions) and how these relate to interpersonal and team processes, and how leaders can shape workplaces that engender shared understanding. His work has appeared in peer-reviewed academic journals such as the Journal of Applied Psychology, Organizational Psychology Review, and the Journal of Positive Psychology, as well as books such as the Palgrave Handbook of Servant Leadership.

Josh also has more than 15 years of practical management experience in journalism and non-profit fundraising, most recently at the University of South Alabama, where he served as Associate Vice President for University Development. He lives in Thibodaux with his wife, Erin, daughter, Kaylin, and son, Owen, and a menagerie of pets.

Matt Ish - Rotarian of the Week

Matt Ish joined our club in 2021 at the invitation of Nicol Montiville and Kristine Strickland, a decision that will likely haunt Kristine for the rest of her life.

Matt enjoys reading and writing about history and travel, especially driving back and forth to Cocodrie. Matt would share more information about his family, but considering that his brother didn't tell him he was employed by the Defense Intelligence Agency for 25 years after he retired from it, his family is not big on sharing information.

For Matt, selling soft drinks at fundraisers is his life. He joined our club because he wanted to find a way to learn about the Houma community, meet some nice people, and do something useful—in addition to selling soft drinks.
