Club of Houma

Guest Speaker -Nicole Chiasson and Lee Landry

Nicole Chiasson has been the Director of the museum for almost 7 years. She is not originally from the area but has lived here for 23 years now. During her time at Southdown, she has been working to bring the museum into the digital age by setting up databases and integrating the old with the new. In addition to their normal job duties, she and her staff have been overseeing the reconstruction of the different areas of the property and buildings that received damage from Hurricane Ida. This has been a challenging time but has also been rewarding in many ways.

Lee Landry was born and raised in downtown Houma. As a child going to Southdown Elementary School, he would pass by the museum and look upon it with great admiration and curiosity. He always thought that someday he would be involved with Southdown in some way. Well, 35 years later, his dream came true.

Stephanie Corso - Rotarian of the Week

Stephanie Corso has been married to Mark Corso for the past 35 years. They share 4 boys and 3 grandkids. She enjoys spending time with her family, fishing, cooking, meeting new people, traveling, and having wine with friends.

Stephanie graduated from Vanderbilt High School in 1973. She started her work career in the oilfield, then moved on to the dental field where she was office manager for Leonard Pizzolatto, III, for 18 years. While she was there she had always felt like she could be doing more for herself and her family. She had a job offer in the car business and stayed at Terrebonne Ford for 6 years. After leaving there, she became an account executive for 3 Cord Solutions.

Stephanie was invited to a Rotary meeting 6 years ago by Katie Sims. She then realized her real purpose, that she could make a difference in our community. She started volunteering for everything and loved what we were doing: bringing Christmas presents to disabled children, distributing dictionaries to excited schoolchildren, being an Early Act and Interact sponsor, making nachos for the TFAE run, planning an unforgettable Christmas party at the Jolly Inn. Stephanie says that being asked to serve on the Board was an Honor. "Our Club is the Best Rotary to belong to and I look forward to seeing all of you every week!"
