About Cynthia Knapek:

In 2012, Cynthia Knapek was named President of the Leadership Louisville Center. The Center is a national leader in civic engagement and leadership development whose mission is to inspire and equip leaders to BE BETTER and DO BETTER. Cynthia is particularly proud that the work the Center has done to foster inclusivity and embrace diversity was recognized with the 2016 Champion of Diversity Award from the Urban League.

In Cynthia's presentation titled "Kicking Some Glass: Leadership Traits for the 21st Century," she will share exciting research that predicts that the future of leadership may just be female! Cynthia will detail the stumbling blocks that make it difficult for women to move up and the current data that helps us identify the gaps that create the biggest challenges in gender parity. She'll also focus on key strategies to help bridge the gaps including building confidence, courage and also a better connection with male allies.

February 20th Meeting Recap:

Joe Heron, Founder of Copper and Kings, gave an informative and descriptive presentation on his journey of entrepreneurship in beverage industry titled "Life Lessons of a Serial Entrepreneur." Joe was proud to share that Copper and Kings has been voted the Best Distillery in Louisville for the past 4 years. He shared his business life lessons through what he calls "The Book of Joeisms" and detailed the necessary ideas to have a successful and thriving small business, stating Copper and Kings "is large because we are loud," eluding to his belief in being present in and giving back to the community.
