November 7th Meeting Recap:

Derrick K. Ramsey reflected upon his childhood and the importance his parents placed on education over athleticism as one of the driving forces in his responsibilities as Secretary for Education and Workforce Development. Secretary Ramsey highlighted various workforce programs available to employers and job seekers across the Commonwealth, and shared how these programs have enabled Kentucky to fill workforce pipelines with skilled workers. Secretary Ramsey also discussed the way forward, stating that there is still major work to be done for Kentucky's workforce to be competitive nationally and internationally.
