Upcoming Programs

July 24, 2023: Constituent Services Discussion -Larken Egleston

Our special guest speaker will be Larken Egleston, the District Director for Congressman Jeff Jackson. Larken will be sharing valuable insights about the constituent services available for our congressional district, making this a meeting you won't want to miss.

By attending this Rotary meeting, you'll gain an understanding of the constituent services available, allowing you to make the most of the resources provided by our elected representatives. This will help us effectively engage with our government and ensure our voices are heard on matters that are important to our community. At the same time, you will have the opportunity to establish a direct connection with Larken Egleston, who serves as a vital bridge between our community and Congressman Jeff Jackson.

July 31, 2023: Interlaken Wildlife Center

Our very own Richard Rankin is the new director of the Interlaken Wildlife Center, a 2000-acre nature and hunting preserve in Cameron, SC (forty minutes south of Columbia). The mission of IWC is to connect people to nature through outdoor recreation, education, and shooting and hunting sports. Richard will be sharing some fun stories about their four programs: an apprentice program that trains wildlife managers, a clay shooting course where Calhoun County High School practices, a quail shooting preserve, and an outdoor education program for elementary age children, which is being developed. If you love the outdoors or are just curious about the Wildlife Center, you'll appreciate learning about their activities and mission.
