Message from Chair Gerald Gortner

Welcome to Spring. We have had a mild winter, but it really seems Spring has been slow arriving. We thank everyone who attended one or more sessions this year. Our pilot on two week nights was very well received with over 70 participants representing 17 Districts throughout the Northeast and Midwest. If you liked these sessions and would like to see us continue, make your site chair aware and vote at our annual meeting in August to allow districts to host these evening sessions at their discretion. We are planning our annual meeting for August and planning for a different location, probably in the New York Capital District, to shorten the driving distance for our New England and New York attendees. We are planning sessions for Friday afternoon and Saturday morning for facilitators, Regional Vice Chairs (RVC), Governors, and District Governors Elect. Our RVC's have worked very hard this year to have all our trained facilitators observe sessions, so we can incorporate them into our listing of available facilitators for 2023-2024. We are reviewing our session and facilitator evaluations for updating as we have been using the current format for the past five years. At our annual meeting we will be introducing our Graduate course for 2023-24.

Message from our Executive Director Deb Glisson

What is our work?

The work of the Rotary Leadership Institute North East America is to provide facilitated learning opportunities for Rotarians, which will expand their Rotary knowledge and their leadership skills. Participants are motivated to be enthusiastic, creative, and dedicated Rotarians. Those attending the three course days for their full duration receive recognition of completion and are encouraged to participate in Graduate Level Sessions. Course methods reflect the most innovative and participatory methods possible. Included are discussion groups, role-playing, problem solving, group planning exercises, etc. The lecture approach is limited.

What are the teaching methods?

Course methodology reflects the most innovative and participatory methods possible. Included are discussion groups, role-playing, problem solving, group planning exercises, creating projects, audiovisual presentations, etc. The lecture approach is strictly limited. Every participant is actively engaged and encouraged to contribute to the discussion and sharing. Course workbooks are posted on the rlinea.org website.

Who are the Facilitators for the Sessions? ...I thought you would never ask.....

The RLI-NEA faculty members are Rotarians who have completed all 3 levels of RLI-NEA and have been recommended by either their District Governor or a member of the RLI-NEA Executive Committee. Once recommended, those Rotarians participate in a Faculty Training Seminar. Following their training, they will observe current faculty in action and will get their feet wet by leading a session while being observed by an experienced faculty member.

....And now for some very significant news!!!!!!

Over the past 11 months, RLI-NEA has held three Faculty Training Seminars, resulting in 20 new Faculty Members, two updated Faculty Members ,and three new Faculty Trainers! Those training seminars were held in conjunction with the Wakefield RLI-NEA event in Wakefield, MA on April 30, 2022, the RLI-NEA Annual meeting in Parkridge, NJ on August 19, 2022, and the Rotary Empire MD PETS Event in Syracuse, NY on March 17, 2023. Many of those new faculty members have already observed other faculty members and have been observed themselves. They are very ready, willing, and able to facilitate future RLI-NEA events! All of them bring their enthusiasm for Rotary and their engaging approaches to facilitating professional adults as learners to the RLI-NEA experience.

Time to Nominate the best of the best for RLI's major awards

Rotary Leadership Institute North East America Awards Chair, PDG Toni McAndrew invites you to submit nominations now for both the Outstanding Facilitator Award and the Yvette Palmer Award for Exceptional Service to RLI. All nominations are due by June 30.

The first award is the Outstanding Facilitator Award. We all know what a huge difference a great facilitator or discussion leader can make during the learning process. Everyone's time is valuable so let's recognize those outstanding facilitators who engage us and make learning a great experience.

Nomination criteria for the Faculty Member of the Year includes, but is not limited to:

- Session preparedness and knowledge of said topics
- Engaging all group participants whether on site or a video/Zoom presentation
- Ability to cite and review additional topic resources
- Being a team player—attending and contributing to faculty prep sessions, assisting where needed; having session flexibility
- Demonstrating innovative techniques for learning and computer skills where applicable including camera readiness and virtual adaptability with breakout rooms
- Receiving positive evaluations from class participants.

The second award is the Yvette M. Palmer Award for Exceptional Service to Rotary Leadership Institute. RLI NEA Officers, Site Chairs and Vice-Chairs are especially encouraged to submit nominations for this very special award. The criteria for this award includes:

- Exceptional dedication to the RLI program
- Long term involvement in one or many roles within the RLI program
- Positive role model reflective of RLI values

When submitting your nomination for this award, please state how your nominee has gone above and beyond in being of service to
