Brian Gower, Senior Director of Foundations & Partnerships at World Vision

Rotary International Conference in Melbourne, Australia and how the Partners for Malaria Free Zambia grant was highlighted, and how he got involved in International Development/Humanitarian work.

Brian brings nearly 20 years of international development experience in the areas of partnership, strategic planning, leadership development, fundraising, program management, and sustainable community development. He has a long track record of building strong rapport, working across multiple teams and partner organizations to successfully execute high quality, complex, multi-sector projects.

Today Brian serves as a Senior Director for Foundations and Partnerships at World Vision US. He is the main point of contact in the 20-year partnership between World Vision and Rotary. Brian is also an active Rotary member with the Rotary Club of Federal Way in District 5030.

Brian's prior role was leading the water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) team in World Vision US, responsible for strategic donor investments, partnerships and reporting for WASH projects and programs around the globe. This portfolio included an unprecedented effort to ensure 20 million people have access to safe water, dignified sanitation, and improved hygiene in 35+ countries by 2020, which was achieved.

Brian holds an M.B.A. in International Development from Hope International University and a B.A. in Theology. He and his wife Holly live just outside of Seattle, WA with their five children and enjoy camping, gardening, and traveling.
