LAST WEEK'S PROGRAM

Your Bull-Ed was out of town last week and I didn't get any feedback about the program. I know that Tony Bean, the man in charge at Pullman-Moscow Airport was scheduled and I'm sure his presentation was informative.

DID THE POT GROW? OR DID SOMEONE HIT THE JACKPOT?

SINCE I'M OUT OF THE LOOP FOR LAST WEEK'S MEETING, I SHALL HOPE I AM NOT OVERLOOKING ANYTHING OF NOTE. I WILL HAVE ANOTHER BULLETIN NEXT MONDAY AND CAN INCLUDE ANYTHING IN THAT ISSUE THAT I HAVE MISSED IN THIS ONE.

AS IS OBVIOUS, THIS ONE IS A DAY LATE. JUST GOT BACK HOME THIS AFTERNOON.

UPCOMING PROGRAMS

JUNE 8: John Turner (Dr. Turner: whatcha got planned for us?)

JUNE 22: Jon Webber

JULY 13: Scott Ackerman

JULY 27: Michael Birnbaum

AUGUST 10: Erica Pugh

AUGUST 24: Jerry Pugh

FROM MR. OGREN'S SECRET STASH...

They say that "a problem shared is a problem halved..."

I'm not too sure about that as last night I told my wife that my girlfriend was pregnant.

Nothing looks good on me anymore," wailed a customer modeling an outfit in front of the department store's mirror.

"Nonsense, ma'am," soothed the salesclerk. "That dress says it all."

"That's the problem," the woman replied. "I need a dress that keeps its mouth shut."

A professor at a museum noticed his tomb exhibit was empty.

He walks by a little boy who is lost and crying.

He asked the boy what's wrong. "I want my mommy!" the boy sniffed.

The professor said, "I know how you feel, I want my mummy too!"

When he saw how astronomically high his latest phone bill was, the head of house called a family meeting.

"This is unacceptable," said the father. "You have to limit the use of the phone. I never use this phone. I always use the one in the office."

The mother said, "Same here. I hardly use the home phone, because I use my work phone."

The son said, "Me, too. I never use the home phone. I always use the company's mobile."

"So what is the problem?" asked the maid. "We all use our work telephones."

Why did the fish blush?

Because it saw the ocean's bottom.

While my third-grade class was completing a writing exercise, one of the students asked me how to spell "piranha."

I told him I was unsure. To my delight, he went to the dictionary to solve his problem.

That's when I overheard another pupil say to him, "Why bother to look it up? She doesn't know how to spell it anyway."

Our computers went down at work today, so we had to do everything manually...

It took me twenty minutes to shuffle the cards for solitaire.

Tourist: "The flies are awfully thick around here. Don't you ever shoo them?"

Native: "Nope, we just let them go barefoot."

Three guys all worked in the same office with the same male boss. Each day, they watched the boss leave work early.

One day, the guys decided that, when the boss left, they would leave right behind him. After all, he never called or came back to work, so how would he know they went home early?

James was thrilled to be home early, he did a little gardening, spent play time with his son, and went to bed early.

Lester was elated to be able to get in a quick workout at the spa before meeting a dinner date.

Charlie was happy to get home early and surprise his wife, but when he got to his bedroom, he heard a muffled noise from inside. Slowly and quietly, he cracked open the door and was mortified to see his wife in bed with his boss!

Gently he closed the door and crept out of the house.

The next day, at their coffee break, James and Lester planned to leave early again, and they asked Charlie if he was going to go with them.

"No way!" Charlie exclaimed. "The boss almost caught me yesterday!"
