

ENRICHING LIVES. FUELING PROGRESS.

NURSING SCHOLARS STEAL THE SPOTLIGHT

Honoring the Future of Healthcare

The highlight of the meeting was undoubtedly the nursing scholarship presentations. President Terri and Scholarship Chair Bill Crowe took center stage to recognize five exceptional students from Tri-Cities College of Nursing and CBC. Irina Alexeyeva, Liz Kelly, Narcili Berry, Sarah Pieper, and Brooklyn Boyes (in memory of Gregory T Warner) each received a $2,000 scholarship to support their nursing dreams.

Celebrations and Congratulations

The nursing program directors from CBC and WSU joined in the festivities, cheering on their star students. It was a true celebration of the future of healthcare, made possible by the club's popular Duck Race fundraiser. Rotary sure knows how to throw a party – and these nursing scholars are the real MVPs!

BRAGS. BOASTS. AND Belly Laughs

The famous Brags and Confessions!

Linda Bauer had the group green with envy after her and Jim's recently performed at Carnegie Hall.

Phillip was recognized at work for having secured 14 patents over the years.

Jan Griffin has a trip planned to San Francisco during which she will have to endure the congestion at SeaTac and SFO airports.

Mark Smith had everyone buzzing about the upcoming Badger Club events include Nicolas Christoff, a NY Times Pulitzer-prize winning author on Zoom and a live meeting with Jim Mattis at CBC, America's Role in a Dangerous World.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND Raffle Ruckus

- Terri and Joan went to Richland High School scholarship night. The recipients must have been really impressive to earn those Richland Rotary stamps of approval!
- Justin Raffa reminded everyone about the upcoming installation dinner.
- Mike Sinclair invited the crew to get their hands dirty at a 2nd Harvest volunteer event.
- The 50/50 raffle heated up, but Jerry Mcquire couldn't quite pull off the big win. Better luck next time, Jerry!

At 91 years young, Bob Larson is an avid outdoorsman who continues to enjoy his favorite pastimes of fishing and golfing. Despite his advanced age, Bob's zest for life and boundless energy are truly inspiring.

Bob can often be found on the golf course, swinging his clubs with precision and power, or out on the nearby lakes, reeling in impressive catches. Bob credits his active lifestyle and positive attitude as the keys to his longevity and happiness.
