Welcome, Invocation and Pledge

President Mark convened the meeting. Greg gave the invocation. We had no specific concerns, so Greg asked for guidance for people who have been displaced by fire (Maui), earthquake (Morroco), and flood (Spain). Bruce led the Pledge.

SPEAKER

At the suggestion of April, President Mark called on Dennis to introduce our speaker, Tim Gill. The thought was that doing the speaker first might speed things along, and we could finish the meeting by one o'clock. NOT. Tim's topic was "The State Of Education in Lake County." He pointed out that we have teacher shortage, and many Districts have inadequate facilities to meet the State's standards. Teachers and administrators are trying their best but our schools are struggling. It was an interesting presentation.

HAPPY BUCKS

Because we were so bummed out by the condition of our schools, no one could think of a Happy Buck. It therefore fell to the Detective to pay the bills.

Detective

Pam was fined for scheduling a meeting of the Crabies to take place prior to the Club meeting, but then she failed to show up. Pam then threw me under the bus by pointing out that I hadn't been to the meeting either. We split the $20 fine. Greg was fined when a photo was displayed on the big screen showing him playing a game on his cell phone during last week's meeting. Jennifer was cited for going on yet another cruise, as was Andy. They did not share a cabin nor were they on the same cruise. Eric paid a fine for taking a cell phone call during Greg's invocation, which is both a fine and a venal sin. He further bragged that his business received an award for being a great place to work. All that cost him $40.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Rotary After Dark will be at Ripe Choice Farm on September 27th. It will be a potluck and bring a friend if you have one. Also, all Rotarians must wear their Blue Rotary shirt because there will be a photo shoot.

Marie is so dissatisfied with the Rotogram that she has created her own online Rotary Monthly News letter. The Pulitzer Prize winning staff of the Rotogram is not concerned, and we wish her well.

The Chamber will have a "Purpose " workshop on Sept. 20.
