LAST WEEK'S MEETING

Prez Michael presided over our well attended meeting (with 3 prospective new members)

Vicki Walker and Maxine Parkin introduced us to Orangetheory Fitness. Orangetheory is a 1-hour, full-body heart rate zone and strength training workout that delivers a more personalized experience in a group setting. Orangetheory is based on the five heart rate training zones. Unlike high-intensity interval training (HIIT), you adjust your level of effort during the workout based on what your heart is telling you. The goal is to spend 12 to 20 minutes with your heart rate elevated in the "Orange Zone" to boost your metabolism, burn fat and burn more calories.
