Lauren Billys Shady Olympic Equestrian Program

Lauren Billys Shady is a Puerto Rican Equestrian that calls Carmel Valley home. Lauren grew up in Visalia, CA where she began falling in love with horses and competing. She competes in the sport called “three-day eventing.” This is a sport that stems from the cavalry, and it tests a rider and horse in their partnership, grit, and abilities. The sport is made of three days of competition: dressage, cross country and show jumping. After Lauren completed her degrees at Fresno State in chemistry and enology (the science of winemaking), she pursued her ultimate dream to compete in the Olympic Games. Since that time, Lauren has competed at the 2011 and 2015 Pan American Games and 2016 and 2020 Olympic Games. With much more to come in Lauren’s competitive career, she resides here in the Monterey Peninsula where she runs her training business called Castillo Farm. At Castillo Farm, Lauren continues to train daily to best the world's leaderboard and compete in more world championships in the future.
