Gratitude Week 1:

Week One – Gratitude

As you increase your sense of gratitude for all the little things in life, you allow inner peace to expand and radiate towards the world around you.

Cultivating Gratitude
The more you express gratitude—through reminding yourself of all you can appreciate, by writing down what you're grateful for or by sharing your thanks with someone else—the more happiness you'll feel. Gratitude contributes to more gratitude as well as greater happiness.

CRAFT TALK

HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND MAKE MILLIONS IN THE CAULKING BUSINESS... INCLUDING THE MYSTERIES OF WATERPROOFING AND RESTORATION.

Speakers

Kelly likes to refer to himself as an Edificial Hydrophobacist, or in lay terms someone who caulks buildings to prevent water leakage. He started out at UC San Diego studying engineering, but by his own admission he wasn't the greatest student and dropped out to pursue his love of surfing, sailing and scuba diving. Kelly hoped to pursue a career in military aviation, but he failed the vision test. He started doing work in San Diego with a small residential decking company, 42 years later he is acknowledged as an international expert in caulking. Kelly, at the zenith of his career was the Senior Vice President of AMS Architectural Technologies and was running offices in the US and overseas. He has worked on some of the most famous, and tallest buildings in the world, and at the homes of legendary stars. He is very proud of the work he did at the local Christ Cathedral, creating a solution that would ensure that the all-glass building was waterproof and sound for years to come. He is scheduled to do a presentation on caulking in Singapore in November before an audience of international architects. He feels the most dangerous gun in hands of an amateur is a caulking gun!
