Message from President #106

By Alfredo Velasco

THE TIE THAT BINDS

Dear Rotarians,

Having recently celebrated the 4th of July at a block party in Long Beach served as a reminder that what binds and connects is so much more profound and real than what can ever divide us.

Choosing freely how we help others in common cause is not just a cultural norm in this country; it is intrinsically human. People want to help others. As Rotarians, we choose to leverage our combined resources and coalesce to literally make the world better and, at the same time, have a damn good time doing it.

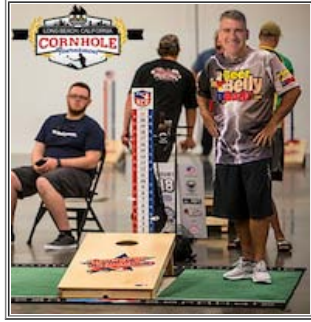

It's where the responsibility of serving others makes better friendships, where service becomes a whole lot of fun or good works meet happy hour. That was the intention of Paul Harris when he gathered local professionals in 1905 in Chicago, Illinois, not only to benefit from their business association but to build goodwill and better friendships.

As we start the new year, challenge yourself to invest time attending our weekly meetings, as a volunteer in a hands-on project or gathering in fellowship at 5 O'Clock Somewhere. Remember that in Rotary, by enjoying each other's company, you help others, help yourself and make this country and this world a better place.

Blessings,

Alfredo
