

Tuesday, June 4 – A discussion on the stigma surrounding mental illness and suicide by drug and alcohol counselor and interventionist, David Wambaugh

Next week – The new PD library director, Dr. Gary Shaffer, will answer all our questions about what changes are coming to our library and when

The City of Palm Desert has withdrawn from the Riverside County Library System and, on July 1, our existing library is scheduled to reopen as the Palm Desert Municipal Library. Dr. Gary Shaffer, the inaugural director of our new city-run library, will be with us on June 11 to tell us about the change and what we can look forward to in the future. Palm Desert joins Palm Springs and Rancho Mirage as cities in the Coachella Valley operating independent libraries. Dr. Shaffer is a 20-year veteran of libraries and, before accepting the Palm Desert position, served as director and CEO of the Glendale, CA and Tulsa, OK public library systems. He is the immediate past president of the California Library Association and served as the director and professor of the USC Marshall School of Business Master of Management in Library and Information Science. Dr. Shaffer is the author of two library management books, co-editor of a third and serves on the editorial advisory board of the Journal of Library Management. He earned his Ph.D. in Managerial Leadership from Simmons University in Boston and holds masters' degrees in library and information science, professional writing and intellectual property law. He speaks and advocates for libraries and archives nationally and internationally. Bring your questions and suggestions about our "new" library on June 11!
