

President Zatuilla Nara's Weekly Bulletin June 7, 2022

I can't believe that it is almost the end of the 2021/2022 Rotary year.

The Jefferson City Parks and Recreation's Rope Challenge Course was a lot of fun and a great experience to push our club outside of our comfort zone. It seemed like an Amazing Race episode, full of mental and physical activities/tasks. However, unlike the show, minus the dramas, the detours, roadblocks, and, of course, an activity involving heights. I can see a future mother-daughter team, a husband-wife team, or a Rotarian-Rotarian team participating in the Amazing Race.

Kudos to D'Arcy, Nick, and the membership committee for organizing this incredible team-building activity. We can all do hard things.

Today's speaker will be Holly Stitt. She and her company own several tornado-damaged buildings in Jefferson City. She will give a presentation on the restoration efforts to give new life to the buildings.

Some of you may have seen Ken's Facebook post about his mother, Virginia Struckhoff Hussey who sadly passed away on May 27th. Please send positive thoughts and energy to Ken and his family.

Safe travel for those returning from the Rotary Convention in Houston. It looks like from the Facebook posts that the Convention was inspirational and a great place to meet like-hearted people from around the world. Especially moving to see that the flag bearer/delegate from Ukraine received a standing ovation of solidarity. Can't wait to hear ideas for future service projects.

Quote for the week: "Keep your face to the sunshine and you can not see the shadow. It's what sunflowers do." -Hellen Keller

See you either today, next week, or sometime in June.

With gratitude,
Zatuilla
