Meeting notes 3-27-18, Committee meetings

In order to allow more time for club business and committee meetings, President Grall began our meeting early, shocking some of the luncheon attendees. Paul Roller gave our invocation. Grall acknowledged Tom Simon's birthday, although he was not present.

Grall thanked Jim Johnson and Kevin Festerling for having arranged our meeting last week at Kingdom Prep High School, and of course for the role both played in starting the high school in the first place.

Anne Neafie noted that 3 students from Kingdom Prep were to be volunteering this evening, the 27th, at Kathy's House for the dinner our members will prepare and serve.

John Bauer reported that he attended a luncheon for Lotus Legal Clinic in relation to the program which the founder, Rachel Monaco Wilcox, gave to our club several months ago. The clinic is growing and is very successful in their mission and are moving later this year to a larger building at 26th and State Street.

Jim Del Balso announced that he would be retiring from Dental Practice on the 29th. Pay Meylor spent 2 days in a hospital recently, for which the bill came to $20,000, looking for sympathy, but several other members easily outdid his medical bill size.

Paul Roller got a message from Brad Rowe (son of former member Tom Rowe), which noted that Tom was in Froedtert hospital. Paul was not able however to reach Tom but would continue to keep us updated on Tom's status. Apparently, he was being treated for pneumonia and other related diagnoses.

Bob Niederman reported that our annual appeal had raised $3275 from members and another $2300 for the Rotary International Foundation. The total of $7721 was raised (it was difficult to write as fast as Bob reported so these numbers are not in balance). He did report that this was the highest total in the last 6 years.

Anyone who did not get their fundraiser tix, talk to Michelle Grall. Reportedly they were to be mailed to those who were not present last week when they were distributed.

Peter Skanavis still needs more items for our upcoming fundraiser silent auction which is on May 11th.

John Bauer referred all to his email a week or so ago about the other upcoming fundraiser, the Kids from Wisconsin concert on June 20th. He needs advertisers and sponsors for the event, which is the main source of revenue we can realize from the event. John will make calls to prospective sponsors, if we can get names to him.

The Change of Guard annual dinner meeting is scheduled for June 19th, which happens to be the day before the Kids concert. The dinner will be in lieu of the noon meeting that day and will be held at Bluemound Country Club.

We then broke into our respective Committees to continue with each group's agendas. Some had time to report, but the meeting ending time made complete reports unfeasible. Stand by for more!
