Speaker:

Julie introduced Steve Farmer UA's new Police Chief. Chief Farmer provided details that led to Chris Bibler being selected as the officer-of-the-year which includes a positive attitude, reliable and handling stress. Officer Bibler has three occasions in late 2018 and early 2019 in which his attention to detail led to the arrest of individuals including a homicide and the recovery of stolen items. Chris has had an opportunity to observe the detective unit and may make this his career path.

Chief Farmer stated he appreciates the UA community and looks forward to working with the community and residents. Today's policing relies on the assistance of residents and a crime prevention focus. The UA community has indicated a high level of appreciation of the Police Department and UA was recently named one of the 20 safest cities in Ohio. He appreciates our Club in recognizing the UA Officer-of-the-Year.

Club discussion included how police train and test for reaction time in situations; the use of body cameras show the work officers perform; police review situations to determine if shots fired are "justified" as police officers are normal people and want to serve the community; driverless vehicles provide opportunities for transportation, but when accidents happen someone will need to be held accountable; and the police are seeking hybrid vehicles due to the high use of electronic equipment that use up car battery energy.
