Mr. Jackson is the site coordinator for Tennessee Tech at the Southern Tennessee Higher Education Center in Lawrenceburg. Tennessee Tech (TTU) is currently offering four-year degrees in Interdisciplinary Studies and Agribusiness as part of their 2 + 2 partnership with Columbia State. The program allows students to complete two years of college level study at a community college and then finish up a four-year degree from TTU at the center. Jackson stated that additional business oriented degrees are being developed with plans to formally implement in the spring of 2023.
