Picture above: Vice President Maria Santini, Rotarian Ryan Egly, and President Tiffany Cope. Ryan discussed the strategic initiatives of the Chamber which include Economic Development, Community Development, and Tourism Marketing. He gave an overview of the latter two items and then concentrated on Economic Development in our community. Lawrence County ranks favorably for capital investment in southern Middle Tennessee and has enjoyed steady, sustainable growth in jobs and employment over the last ten years. Lawrence County has a workforce in excess of 19,000 people, however over 9,000 of those are commuting to jobs outside of the county. One of the Chamber's goals is to bring jobs into the community so that local residents can gain employment closer to home. An important aspect of that is having land and utilities available for new businesses and Ryan described several initiatives addressing that opportunity.
