*bring their popular
"You Might Be Right" podcast to the Rotary Club of Chattanooga for a live recording on August 22.*

"You Might Be Right" is a bi-partisan look at the political questions of the day.

The name of the podcast comes from how the late U.S. Senator Howard Baker used to encourage people to listen to the other guy's viewpoint because he might be right.

If we are to truly change the world with The Magic of Rotary, itâ€™s up to all of us to foster a sense of belonging in our clubs. But every club should take its own path to get there, and the Action Plan can help you find your way. What does that look like?

Take, for instance, the Rotary Club of Beveren-Waas in Belgium. It was chartered in 1974 but has evolved with the times, developing both a strategic plan and a membership plan. To find new members, the club analyzes the cityâ€™s professions to help focus its search, and all new members are quickly assigned tasks and roles.

The club also mixes up meeting times, alternating between evening and afternoon sessions, making them accessible for all members.

Sometimes, circumstances force clubs to make changes. But as people of action, we know that behind every obstacle is an opportunity.
