TennGreen Land Conservancy

Christie Henderson is the Director of Land Conservation and has been with TennGreen Land Conservancy since May 2012. In her role, she shepherds complicated, urgent, and detailed land transactions, often with national partners and governmental agencies, to acquire, restore, and conserve important lands and landscapes throughout Tennessee and beyond. Christie followed her outdoor passion through college and holds an M.S. in Biology from Tennessee Technological University, where she focused her research on avian diversity and richness in the presence of timber harvesting at Catoosa Wildlife Management Area.

Facing Adversity

Timothy Holder was our speaker and he started by saying adversity prepares you for greater adversity. Timothy used George Washington as an example. Washington's adversity was the well-funded and organized British troops and lack of colony support. He overcame this adversity by refusing to quit. Timothy said we can do the same thing when we face adversity. He also used Abraham Lincoln, James Garfield and James Madison, who overcame adversity through their strengths and became successful. Timothy went on to say we fail when a door is closed because we are too focused on the door and not how to open other doors.
