Meet Our President-Elect

Janis Anderson is the Campus Director at Georgia Military College-Stone Mountain. Ms. Anderson's responsibilities include but is not limited to, overseeing the day-to-day operations, staffing, to include faculty, class scheduling, student retention, campus security, student activities and so on, at GMC-Stone Mountain.

Janis is a native of Jamaica. Born and raised in Kingston, Jamaica, where she received her formative grade school education, graduating from high school. Her family later migrated to Atlanta, Georgia, where she later earned a Bachelor degree in Business Administration from Saint Leo University, then earned an MBA (Master of Business Administration) from Saint Leo University, and later a Graduate Certificate in Human Resources Administration) from Central Michigan University.

Before transitioning into the field of education, she worked in the banking industry and later as a Price Analyst in the paper industry at Georgia Pacific Corporation. Her professional background includes, accounting, auditing bank tellers and managing credit card disputes at what use to be known as First Union Bank in Atlanta, Ga. First Union Bank relocated to North Carolina in the late 1980's, thereafter, Ms. Anderson accepted a position at Georgia Pacific Corporation, working initially in the area of accounting for one of the company's largest divisions.

Later, she accepted a promotion as a price analyst, working with the sales department assisting with negotiating prices on paper products based on the market and volume of sales. Some of the nations leading fortune 500, 100 and fortune 50 companies, such as Hallmark, Staples, Johnson & Johnson, to name a couple, earned discount pricing through rebates based on frequency of volume sold, prompting reorders to replenish their inventory and thus earning more rebates.

The division was later sold, prompting Ms. Anderson to venture into somewhere new after over 12 years in the paper industry. After leaving corporate America, Ms. Anderson transitioned into a career in education at Saint Leo University-Fort McPherson, Ga. She started with GMC in 2006 where she managed the GMC campus at Fort McPherson.

She was tasked with opening a campus in the Stone Mountain Village and with that said, GMC-Stone Mountain opened its doors in July 2011. With the closing of Fort McPherson, Ms. Anderson was packing up one GMC campus as she worked on opening another campus in the Stone Mountain Village.

Ms. Anderson has always had a personal interest in the Stone Mountain area; she has family living in the area and previously taught classes at The Stone Mountain Park. She shares, "I have been blessed with a tremendous amount of support from the community and Stone Mountain feels like home", she says. Recently, the campus celebrated its 11th anniversary, and it is on the day of the campus's anniversary, July 18th, that the former Mayor, Patricia Wheeler proclaimed July 18th as GMCStone Mountain's Day in the Village of Stone Mountain.

Ms. Anderson believe it is important to give back and particularly to the community that has been so very supportive. She has given of her time and treasure to promote what use to be "the Boost-Up" program that provided financial assistance to local businesses in need. Her campus has been involved with the community garden. Encouraged students, faculty and staff to volunteer at the local theater, back to school events, Christmas parades, partnering with DeKalb County Health, providing a drive through flu clinic during the COVID-19 pandemic, to name a few.

Ms. Anderson is a proud mother to her adult daughter, Kristine and son, Christopher. Both college graduates and very successful in their respective professional fields. She enjoys traveling outside the United States whenever she gets a chance and always look forward to experiencing other cultures in this wonderful world we live in. She also enjoys bowling with friends and just having good old fashion fun
