This Week's Meeting

Our speaker this week is Frank Malloy, and I have no idea what he's going to talk about. So I looked on WMAZ's website and found this which I thought was amusing so here it is for your enjoyment as well:

From the Flood of 1994 to 9/11, when the biggest stories impacting Central Georgia and the world were unfolding, Frank Malloy was there. Forty years ago, a young Frank Malloy arrived at 13 WMAZ as a sportscaster. The rest is history...

You probably didn't know he's a great driver, and legend has it he's the originator of "Sleeves Up." The man has a unique skillset. He's like the Swiss Army knife of news anchors -- there's no role he can't play, even if it's totally unnecessary. For example, the following comedic exchange:

"A shocking discovery in Warner Robins. Hello, thank you for joining us, I'm Lori Johnson," said Frank. "And I'm Lori Johnson, this is Eyewitness News at...," Lori laughed. Frank continued, "Pardon me, she's actually Lori Johnson, and I'm Frank Malloy."

He's also really good with a sledgehammer, which he once displayed when he destroyed the old weather center set in an act of "revenge" against Ben. "He said it once, he's said it a hundred times: 'Old anchor.' I'm gonna show him about old. Revenge is sweet," Frank cackled.

There's more, but I'm going to let Frank tell the rest of the story. (And my apologies to Paul Harvey!)

Superhero Dash for Dad

Even the littlest hero can help fight prostate cancer too!

Kids nine and under are encouraged to dress as their favorite superhero on race day to remind their heroes – Dad, Grandfathers, Uncles, and other males in their life – to not let this villain, Prostate Cancer, get the best of them. This event is immediately after the Pacer 5K road race which starts at 8:00 am.

Volunteer and come be a part of the fun!!

As you all know, this is one of our club's signature service events, and it takes over 200 volunteers to put it on so please come help and be a part of the fun on October 22nd!

Work a 2-hour shift and then stay and enjoy the music and food!
