PROGRAM

Tim Lowrimore
President and CEO
Georgia Forestry Association

Lowrimore is a registered forester whose career spans the entire forestry supply chain. His extensive experience gives him a deep understanding of the challenges and opportunities facing landowners, loggers, and forest product manufacturers in Georgia. Tim's first-hand knowledge of the industry ensures that GFA and GFF are well-equipped to address the evolving needs of Georgia's forestry community.

Throughout his career, Lowrimore has demonstrated his passion and leadership as a champion for Georgia's working forests and the entire forestry supply chain. He most recently served as Director and State Forester for the Georgia Forestry Commission, after being appointed by Governor Brian Kemp in January 2021. In that capacity, Lowrimore led the commission through a strategic leadership change in order to improve the performance and efficiency of the Agency in service to Georgia's forest landowners. In addition, he advocated in support of the modernization of equipment and increased funding for personnel to support forest ranger recruitment and retention.

Since 1907, the Georgia Forestry Association has served as the premiere advocate for a healthy business environment for Georgia's 22 million acres of working forests and the 143,000 Georgians who depend on them.
