TODAY’S SPEAKER

Greg Lewis, Director

Georgia Native Plant Society

Greg Lewis serves as a Director-at-Large of the Fringed Campion Chapter of the Georgia Native Plant Society and as a Director of the Georgia Native Plant Society. Greg is currently the owner of a native plant nursery (Flat Creek Natives) located in Perry, Georgia, a “third career” of sorts. Before retirement from the U.S. Air Force and federal civil service, Greg earned a Ph.D. in Organizational Leadership and taught numerous classes to Department of Defense employees seeking certification in the acquisition field. After serving almost 30 years in the DoD, Greg discovered an interest in and love for propagating native flora as a way to keep our environment clean and healthy. What began as a hobby soon developed into a business as he studied and learned more about local plants and wildlife and became convinced of the need to “go native.” Now he spends his days planting, propagating, cultivating, and just generally getting his hands dirty as he tends the multitude of plants in his native nursery. Flat Creek Natives focuses on native azaleas, wildflowers, trees, and many other pollinator friendly items native to Georgia's Coastal Plain. Greg previously served on the Coastal Plain Chapter Board of Directors. Greg lives in Perry, GA with his high school sweetheart, Juanita.
