Rotary Rote Published Weekly
by the Rotary Club of PVB

Wow! The past few weeks have been busy-am I right? We will get to the recap from our last meeting but we have to take a moment to thank Jennifer Logue and her incredible committee for all their efforts to make this past Saturday's Mineral City Celebration a huge success! It was a beautiful night recognizing Tony Boselli as the Rock of the Community alongside his lovely wife Angi. Thank you to all our sponsors and silent auction winners! You can check out all the pics by clicking the link on page two. We began our meeting last week with a career talk from red badger Ryan Becker. We also congratulated Toni Chrabot on being named our Rotarian of the Month! PP M.J.

Fratianni also inducted two new members. Welcome

Jenn Kjellman and Kevin Feeley. We also heard from one of our members Scott Grant who shared stories about the Beatles only trips to Florida visiting Miami and Jacksonville in 1964. I just read that an original copy of The Beatles' 1968 White Album has been donated to a charity shop. It is thought to be incredibly rare, featuring a misprint unique to the first version of the record of which there are only 10,000 copies.

May 18th Program:

Chris Engl is a Wall Street veteran with over 20 years of experience in serving institutional clients across New York, San Francisco, and Jacksonville. In 2019, a major change in his life led him to refocus his time, energy, and commitment to education, freedom and free markets. Since then, Chris helped establish Cornerstone Classical Academy, a Duval charter school offering a classical education to 800+ students, where he serves as Governing Board Treasurer. Chris co-founded The Liberation of Education, a non-profit focused on inspiring parents and students about various educational arrangements outside the public school system. Additionally, he is an investor and consultant in Honduras Prospera, which he considers to be the world's most important human prosperity project. Most of all, Chris is a proud dad and husband who believes a healthy family unit is the most life-changing organization in the world. Today, Chris is representing Ponte Vedra Beach Toastmasters as Club President and aims to inspire Rotarians by sharing the value of Toastmasters in his journey.
