Speaker for Monday, September 9, 2024 - Jake Nicely - Daytona State College

Jake began his career as a musician and actor in 1977 and rapidly became one of the most sought-after recording studio designers and independent recording engineers in the nation. For more than 20 years, he co-owned and operated recording studios in Nashville, TN, Branson, MO, and Peoria, IL, including the famed Woodland Studios, Seventeen Grand Recording and The Love Shack.

Jake was selected by Daytona State College in 2008 to design, and ultimately manage, the Music Production and Technology program, which included overseeing the design and building of the recording studios, labs, and specially-equipped classrooms at the News-Journal Center where the program is housed. He serves as Professor of Music Production Technology in the Mike Curb College of Music, Entertainment & Art.

Rotary International News - September 9, 2024

For over two decades, Rotary's "Lesen lernen â€" Leben lernen" (Learning to Read â€" Learning to Live) project has supported literacy efforts across Germany.

By partnering with schools, the initiative has distributed more than 1 million specially designed books to students, enhancing students' reading skills and inspiring a lifelong love of learning.

How can your Rotary club support literacy in your community?

United to End Cervical Cancer in Egypt

Rotary awards US$2 million to prevent cervical cancer in Egypt

The Rotary Foundation recently announced the award of the most recent Program of Scale Grant, $2 million to prevent cervical cancer in Egypt.

United to End Cervical Cancer in Egypt is a Rotary member-led program that aims to ultimately reduce the number of cervical cancer cases in the greater Cairo region by implementing a four-year campaign to increase awareness about cervical cancer and how to prevent it. The implementation experience and data collected through this program will inform an evidence-based national strategy by the Egyptian government toward eliminating cervical cancer, considered one of the most preventable cancers.

Now You Know!

Why the Rotary year begins 1 July

Ever wonder why 1 July is the beginning of the Rotary year? Initially, our conventions played a key role in determining the start date of our fiscal and administrative year.

Rotary's first fiscal year began the day after the first convention ended, on 18 August 1910. The 1911-12 fiscal year also related to the convention, beginning with the first day of the 1911 convention on 21 August.

Attendees at Rotary's first convention in Chicago in 1910. Rotary's first fiscal year began the day after the convention ended.

The next August, the Board of Directors ordered an audit of the International Association of Rotary Clubs' finances. The auditors recommended that the organization end its fiscal year on 30 June to give the secretary and treasurer time to prepare a financial statement for the convention and board, and to determine the proper number of club delegates to the convention.

The executive committee agreed and, in April 1913, designated 30 June as the end of the fiscal year. This also allowed for changes to the schedule for reporting club membership and payments. Even The Rotarian changed its volume numbering system to correspond to the fiscal year (beginning with Volume 5, No. 1, in July 1914).

Rotary continued to hold its annual conventions in July or August until 1917. Delegates to the 1916 event in Cincinnati, Ohio, USA, approved a resolution to hold future conventions in June, mainly because of the heat in cities where most of them occurred. The next one was held 17-21 June in Atlanta, Georgia.

The term "Rotary year" has been used to signify Rotary's annual administrative period since at least 1913. An article in The Rotarian that July noted, "The Rotary year that is rapidly drawing to a close has been signaled by several highly successful joint meetings of Clubs that are so situated as to assemble together easily and conveniently."

Since the executive committee's decision in 1913, the end of the Rotary year has remained 30 June.
