Speaker for Monday, May 6, 2024 - Mike Panaggio - DME Academy

Mike Panaggio's commitment to sports and leadership started early, as both a coach's kid and an elite athlete. Mike played college basketball at SUNY Brockport while his dad was Head Coach. Mike broke multiple basketball school records and was eventually inducted into the SUNY Brockport Athletics Hall of Fame, like his dad, Mauro Panaggio. After college, Mike played a year in the CBA where his team won the league championship, and he made the All-Star team. After basketball, Mike grew his company DME from a start-up employing seven people in 1984, into one of Florida's most innovative marketing companies, which currently employs hundreds of associates. His success with DME led him to create DME Delivers, DME Visual, DME Digital, and other companies that form DME Brands. Mike understands what makes DME successful is its employees. He leads by example "working as hard as possible while staying humble. In 2015, Mike founded DME Academy, in Daytona Beach, Florida. The Academy's goal is to better serve the local sports community and elite youth athletes from around the world. Mike is as passionate about business as he is about sports. He is always looking for new opportunities and enjoys learning from elite business people and athletes alike.

Rotary Peace Fellowships

Each year, Rotary awards up to 130 fully funded fellowships for dedicated leaders from around the world to study at one of our peace centers.

Through academic training, practice, and global networking opportunities, the Rotary Peace Centers program develops the capacity of peace and development professionals to become effective catalysts for peace. The fellowships cover tuition and fees, room and board, round-trip transportation, and internship and field-study expenses.

Since the program began in 2002, the Rotary Peace Centers have trained more than 1,700 fellows who now work in over 140 countries. Many serve as leaders in governments; NGOs; education and research institutions; peacekeeping and law enforcement agencies; and international organizations like the United Nations and the World Bank.

The Rotary Peace Fellowship is designed for leaders with work experience in peace and development. Fellows are committed to community and international service and the pursuit of peace.

Each year, The Rotary Foundation awards up to 50 fellowships for master's degrees and up to 80 for certificate studies at premier universities.

Rotary has seven Rotary Peace Centers at eight universities.

Five centers offer master's degrees in disciplines related to peace and development:

- A joint program at Duke University and the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill, USA
- International Christian University, Japan
- University of Bradford, England
- University of Queensland, Australia
- Uppsala University, Sweden

The Master's program is intended for individuals towards the start of their peacebuilding careers. Each year, 50 fellows are assigned to a master's program (10 fellows per center) that lasts from 15-24 months.

The Center at Makerere University (Ma-KAY-ray-ray) in Uganda, offers a postgraduate diploma in peacebuilding and conflict transformation that is intended for mid-career working professionals. This one-year professional development certificate program blends online learning, classroom studies and field visits, and a nine-month social change initiative. Each year, 40 fellows (two classes of 20 fellows) are selected to participate in the program at Makerere University.

Starting in 2024, recruiting will begin for the newest Rotary Peace Center opening at Bahçeşehir University (BAH-che-she-hir) in Istanbul, Turkey which will also offer the one-year professional development certificate program with a postgraduate diploma in peace and development studies. Realizing a vision that has been three years in the making, the new peace center at Bahçeşehir University makes progress toward The Rotary Foundation's long-term goal of expanding Rotary Peace Centers in key geographic regions.

The Rotary Peace Fellowship application is now open.

The 2025-26 Rotary Peace Fellowship application is available online through 15 May 2024.
