Last Week's Meeting:

We had a Wonderful Zoom Meeting! Under the direction of our very own Lauren Johnston (a.k.a. birthday girl), Director of the City of Palm Coast Parks & Recreation Department we heard from two amazing members of her team! We heard from Brittany McDermott, Community Recreation Manager and James Hirst, Outdoor Recreation Manager. Their presentation showed all of the wonderful activities that The City of Palm Coast is offering to their residents along with proposed changes coming in the near future. It was amazing to see how far this community has come from a predominately retiree community to a community that is striving for programs that appeal to everyone, young and old.

The plans in motion include a permanent pickleball court at the existing tennis center, an art district, an expansion of the parking lot for the community center, expanding nature trails and adding a rowing and kayak launch at Waterfront Park. Their goals are very ambitious but we can see exactly what they can accomplish when you look at the activities they have already established such as 130+ miles of trails, the addition to Holland Park and other parks in the area and much more!

From a long time resident of Flagler County I can truly appreciate all of the hard work that has gone into making this a community a complete community, one for all ages. If you would like some more information on what our City has to offer or what is in the works, please visit their website at PalmCoast.gov. They have provided many different ways for their residents to connect. Thank you for all of your hard work!
