Clay County Chamber of Commerce

COMMIT. CONNECT. CREATE.

The Clay County Chamber of Commerce is a member-focused organization that supports and advocates for local businesses. The Chamber is a non-profit organization run by and for our members, many of whom are small business owners in Clay County, Florida. From educational programs for business owners to networking luncheons, the Clay Chamber is specifically designed to help local businesses prosper and thrive.

The Chamber offers a complete directory of local businesses so you can be sure that you are doing business with a fellow Chamber member. The directory is just one of many communications tools we use to stay in touch with, and promote, our Chamber members.

Networking with other business owners is not only a way to build your business, but also to meet and learn about your neighbors here in Clay County. Finally Friday is an informal breakfast networking group that gives members a chance to introduce themselves and their businesses, while getting to know their colleagues. Our regional networking groups feature subject-matter experts, local legislators, and other speakers during lunch or breakfast get-togethers in Orange Park, Fleming Island and Oakleaf. The Chamber also hosts casual evening networking events at local restaurants.

You can find the schedule of events on their monthly calendar.

Thank you for your past support of FL0985 - Rotary Club of Orange Park and the yearlong mission to Remember, Honor, and Teach!

This month Wreaths Across America is celebrating Giving in July across the nation in an effort to highlight like-minded groups doing good things in their communities and raising funds to honor as many service members as possible this December.

Using the well-known marketing slogan "Christmas in July" as a jumping-off point, the goal of "Giving in July" is to start sponsoring wreaths earlier in the year. Consider sponsoring early and support FL0985 - Rotary Club of Orange Park to reach our goal of remembering as many veterans as possible this year.
