Minutarian Minute

By Mike Shewey on Friday, October 4, 2019

We are incredibly fortunate to have so many outstanding Rotarians in District 6970. Every year our Nominating Committee has the challenging task of selecting a District Governor. The committee is currently accepting nominations for the District Governor who will serve during the 2022-2023 Rotary year. Nominations are due by November 1 and the interviews will be conducted later that month. Complete details on the nomination process are available on the newly renovated Rotary District 6970 website. www.rotary6970.org

But Rotarians aren't the only ones making a difference. I visited the Interact Summit this past Saturday, where 53 Interact leaders from 19 clubs laid out their plans for this year. It blew me away! Here is just one of the ideas: a Dance-Off that raised $50,000. These kids are truly People of Action. They are also our future. If you don't have an Interact club in your high school, call our Interact Chairs Gigi Carroll or Doug Brown to find out how to get one.

Have a great week!

Mike

Sheriff Mike Williams

Biography

Sheriff Mike Williams has demonstrated his ability to lead the fight against crime with a proven record of innovation and a commitment to serving every citizen in every neighborhood of Jacksonville, Florida. Born and raised in Jacksonville, he and his wife are proud to call Jacksonville home for their three sons.

After serving in the Air National Guard, Sheriff Williams began his successful career at the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office (JSO) in 1991. During more than 22 years on the force, he worked at every level of the agency. From his very first day as a police officer, he never forgot that the agency's success depends on all officers listening to the community they serve and working together. This is a primary tenant of his administration.

Since being elected in 2015 to serve the City of Jacksonville as its fifth Sheriff, Mike Williams has demonstrated his commitment to driving down violent crime by leveraging newer technology including body cameras and gunfire detection systems to solve crimes. He is further growing the public's trust in the JSO through his mandate for enhanced transparency. Sheriff Williams continues to highlight the use of diversion programming and increase mental health and special needs awareness among officers and the public JSO serves. He recognizes Jacksonville's success depends on the involvement of citizens from every neighborhood of the city, and every walk of life.

◆ I love this job and consider myself to be the most fortunate public servant anywhere. My community is wonderful, and together we are deeply committed to the success of the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office. The public officials I work with are passionate about reducing crime and support my efforts to do that with our strategic vision, steadfast rigor, and a determination to succeed. The men and women that I am privileged to lead - they make the job a true calling for me. I am working every day to solidify the confidence the community has shown in me and earn their continued support.◆

October Project

By Mike Shewey on Friday, October 4, 2019

The October Project is underway - We are collecting coats and sweaters for young students in Jacksonville to keep them warm and in school. Please bring in what you have or what you can find and lets take care of these kids. They are our future. Thank you.
