OCEWP Activities 05062021

Attendance this week was off a bit ♦ 27 in the hall and 7 on Zoom for a total of 34 (the week before was 37). Remember that attendance is still important to a viable Club. Without each of our Rotarians our ability to serve the Community could be diminished. Together we can achieve much more. Fellowship is a key part of building our Club to achieve its best results. Paul Harris knew this when he organized that very first meeting in Chicago over 100 years ago.

Bell rang on time and Hafeez Ali delivered the invocation and pledge.

President Lynne provided the following announcements:

Registration for the Rotary International virtual convention is open.

- May 26th social at Don and Pat Johnson♦s home is coming up: All are asked to bring sides, club will provide KFC, island attire if possible.
- Club Demographics:

PEN Geri Evans went to the podium to remind everyone again about the ♦Knights Helping Knights♦ Clothes Closet. A great project for the Club to get behind.

Happy/Sad♦s:

- PEN Geri was happy to see the son from California and that her grandson hit an in the park home run!
- PP John Ingram thought he had his coyote problem beaten ♦ oops they are back again ♦ argh!
- Jerry Poppell Said there were three sides to DJ♦s something or other - - - 50/50 pot was $47.

PP Paul Furey introduced the guest speaker:

Laurie Cardoza-Moore who has established a national and international reputation based on her personal experiences in home schooling and curriculum improvement. Laurie has dedicated her efforts to assuring American Children are afforded access to the highest quality of educational material possible. At a crucial time in America♦s history, the heart of Laurie Cardoza-Moore♦s ongoing passion for education is the preservation and nurturing of our nation♦s next generation of leadership. Among Laurie's numerous awards and recognition is her receipt of an Honorary Doctorate Degree in Theology from the Latin University of Theology. Laurie related how she became involved in this movement and provided insights into how parents can make a difference in the quality of education their children receive. A lively Q&A followed. A fascinating presentation thanks to PP Paul for bringing this speaker!
