Damon Johnson Executive Director LXI

By David Strickland on Tuesday, October 25, 2022

Basketball took Damon Johnson from Carver Park to the University of Tennessee and even as far as Iceland, but his journey to help underprivileged youth has been the most impactful!

A standout for Science Hill, Damon went on to play for UT and went on to play overseas in Iceland and Spain. As a coach, Damon was an Assistant Coach at King University and is currently coaching at Providence Academy. He also coaches the TCF and B Maze Elite travel teams.

Damon is the Executive Director for LXI, a local non-profit program in Johnson City aimed at helping children become leaders through their AMPLY, LAUNCH, and LAUNCH INTO LIFE programs. Previously, Damon was the Director of Rise Up! in Johnson City.

Hear the story of a local product that started from the bottom, has risen up to great heights through sports, and is dedicating his life to giving back to our community.
