9/6/24 Speaker Monica White, Community Programs Manager for Citizens Police Academy, NN Police

Monica White is the Community Programs Coordinator for the Newport News Police Department, where she has been dedicated to strengthening community relationships since 2006. In her role, Monica is responsible for managing a variety of programs to include the Citizen Police Academies (general, senior and youth), developing and fostering partnerships, and raising public awareness of the department's initiatives. She also manages a team of volunteers to include serving as the liaison for the chaplaincy program. Monica holds a Bachelor's degree in Sociology/Social Work from Elizabeth City State University and a Master's Degree in Education from Cambridge College. Her passion for community service is rooted in her belief that engaged and informed citizens are the cornerstone of a thriving community. Outside of work, Monica enjoys spending time with her family, shopping, and exploring new restaurants and considers trying new cuisines as one of her favorite pastimes.

The Citizen Police Academy provides an opportunity for citizens to learn firsthand about police operations. Through a series of lectures, field trips, and simulated activities, citizens are provided training similar to that of an actual police officer. The Academy benefits the community and the department because it builds relationships and creates a cadre of citizens who are better informed about the reality of police work.

Classes are offered twice a year: fall (September - December) and spring (February - May).
