Last Week's Highlights

- MCPS Superintendent Scott Worner was our speaker. Scott was raised in North Dakota where his father was also a superintendent of local schools. Never intending to go into teaching, he chose a major in art at James Madison University. His first job with schools was as bus driver then followed as an art teacher and football coach. He later obtained his doctorate at Virginia Tech. He had numerous jobs as principal and higher administration in schools across Virginia before retiring and then agreeing to take over the job in Mecklenburg. He has been successful at quelling gang influence at the new high school by first expelling 14 students and later following up with another 20. He sees great promise with current students and wants to expand their community involvement with civic groups such as ours. We will follow up with him to invite students to meetings or activities and consider setting up an Interact Club at the school.
- The books for grade schoolers we proposed last week were not needed by the school so we will look for other options for the school.
- Next week - Bring a bag of candy for Halloween donation. and feminine hygiene products for District Conference collection.
- Meeting attendance: 15 members and 1 guest.
