Former UVA and NFL Kicker Michael Husted Visits Short Pump Rotary

Ever wonder what it's like to be a premier NCAA and NFL kicker? What attributes does it take to succeed at that level? What was Tony Dungy like? Should NCAA athletes be compensated? What was the catalyst that led to him trying out as a kicker on his junior high football team? Michael Husted covered it all during a fascinating 30-minute discussion of his football career and successful transition to the business world following his retirement from the NFL. Husted cited (with many examples) passion, hard work, seizing opportunities when they present themselves, and sheer luck as components that have propelled him throughout his career, noting on several occasions how his time at UVA and the people he met there had a positive impact on him throughout his adult life both professionally and personally. To learn more about Husted's current business helping guide the next generation of top kickers, punters, and long snappers, check out www.hustedkicking.com

Rotary International News Highlight: What Every Rotary Club Should Know About Running Virtual/In-Person Meetings

Four years ago, my wife MJ surprised me with an unearthly question. How can we keep Mars-bound astronauts connected with their loved ones on Earth?

This question sparked a journey, though not yet to Mars. Instead, I embarked on a journey to understand social isolation on Earth, to develop new ways to connect remote loved ones using advanced technologies, to found another company, my seventh, Kinoo.family, and to become even more deeply engaged with Rotary!

While few Rotarians are likely to find ourselves hurtling toward the red planet, many of us do understand the feeling, if not the risk, of social isolation, and the desire to remain close to our friends and families. Strikingly, within months of COVID-19 lockdowns in 2020, nearly 80% of Rotary clubs embraced Zoom, or other video conferencing software, to host virtual club meetings and stay connected.
