Adam Lynch serves as restoration coordinator at Friends of the Rappahannock, where his primary role is to manage restoration projects aimed at protecting and enhancing the water quality of the Rappahannock River system.

Adam has a diverse professional background that includes four-plus years as a military consultant with Marstel-Day, as well as positions at Fort A.P. Hill, Lake Anna State Park, and Pacific Northwest National Laboratory. He holds a B.S. in Integrated Science and Technology from James Madison University, and is a graduate of Courtland High School in Spotsylvania County.

When not at work, Adam can often be found fishing and pondering how he became so lucky as to make a living working in service of his home river.

DICTIONARIES

Haley Lafley, 3rd grader and granddaughter of John Lafley, welcomes Granddad John & Mary Rose who delivered dictionaries to Haley's 3rd grad class – October 12, 2018.

John announced that 7 of our 17 schools have already received their dictionaries.

Supporting Stafford Junction

At last week's meeting Rotary President Trevor O'Toole and Youth Chairman John Lafley presented a donation to Mark Cartledge, Executive Director of Stafford Junction. Stafford Junction serves high-need children, youth and their families in Stafford County. They partner with service agencies, churches, residents and businesses to build relationships and foster understanding across socio-economic lines.

HELP GIVE BRAND NEW WINTER COATS TO CHILDREN IN NEED

Nearly one in five kids in the U.S. live in poverty. Stafford County Public Schools is on a mission to give brand-new, colorful winter coats to low-income children in Stafford County.

Help Give Winter Coats to Kids in SCPS. Every $20 Will Provide a Brand New, Warm Coat Through Our Partner Operation Warm.
