

A Preview of the Recovery-Friendly Workplace Summit

Tuesday, January 9, 2024

Marilyn Shannon, spokesperson for the People’s Recovery Initiative for Solutions and More (PRISM), provided a brief introduction to the Recovery Friendly Workplace WNC Summit, which will be held January 17-18 at Blue Ridge Community College in Hendersonville.

The two-day conference is part of a nationwide initiative to improve the ratio of people who are in recovery and working. Currently, only one in 10 people in recovery are actively employed. The summit will provide information and resources to help employers develop a recovery-friendly workplace that supports coworkers and new hires who are working toward recovery.

Experts will be on hand to discuss substance abuse, addiction, and mental health issues. Among the presenters is Rotary member Jennifer Maneely.

Along with PRISM, Dogwood Trust is cosponsoring the event.
