After school Edventure

Jennifer Love, director of the Macon County Schools STEM program and the after school program – Edventure presented the program at the April 29 meeting of the Rotary Club of Franklin Daybreak.

Love said the STEM program is thriving. She thanked the Rotary Club for their recent donation to the robotic program.

She said the school system has approximately 180 students participating in the after school program every day. The program is available at all elementary schools as well as the intermediate school. After school programs include such projects as healthy eating, cooking, outdoor events, arts and culture.

Students talk about the RYLA experience

Graham Caldwell, Clara Stork and Nathan McAllister attended the Rotary Club of Franklin Daybreak to talk about their experiences at RYLA this year.

"I look forward to just being able to connect with like-minded people," said Graham. "I found myself opening up and talking about things that I may not talk to my friends here about. It's great to be able to connect with other people on topics that we are so passionate about."

Clara said she enjoyed getting to know other people. "We started in small groups and then splintered off with people we connected with," said Clara. "It's a great opportunity to meet people from across the state as well as in neighboring counties."

Nathan McAllister said the event gives participants an opportunity to step outside their comfort zone.

"I spent time with people who live 20 minutes away in Cashiers – people I would never have met. It's a life-changing event."

This year the Rotary Club of Franklin Daybreak donated $500 to help fund service projects that were developed during RYLA.

Coins for a cause

Rotarian Nathan LiBasci drops coins into the CART bucket at the April 29 meeting of the Rotary Club of Franklin Daybreak. Coins are collected to support Alzheimer's research. If you missed the coin drop, it's not too late. Chuck Sutton will be collecting coins and cash for the CART bucket this week too!
