This Week's Speaker - Landis Wade

Landis Wade, Author of Deadly Declarations

Landis Wade is a recovering trial lawyer, dog and sports lover, host of Charlotte Readers Podcast, speaker, teacher, moderator, fly-fisherman and author of books and stories whose third book—The Christmas Redemption— won the Holiday category of the 12th Annual National Indie Excellence Awards. He won the 2016 North Carolina State Bar short story contest for The Deliberation and received awards for his non-fiction pieces, The Cape Fear Debacle and First Dance. His short work also has appeared in Writersdigest.com, The Charlotte Observer, News and Observer, Flying South, Fiction on the Web and in anthologies by Pamlico Writers' Group, High Country Writers and the Daniel Boone Footsteps Personal Story Publishing Project.

In Deadly Declarations, an unlikely trio of retirees try to solve the 250-year-old of the controversial First Declaration of Independence, actions which - if successful - will change US history. That is, if they don't die trying.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!

Thank you to all the sponsors, volunteers, golfers and other participants in our Annual Fundraiser Tee Off for Kids earlier this month. We are thrilled to announce the event raised over $34,000 to support numerous organizations that have a positive impact on the lives of children right here in our own community! We are always looking to make the biggest impact possible! If you know of an organization supporting youth in our community that could use our support, please email Bill Belk directly at billbelk@hotmail.com.
