Last Week's Program

Last week we listened to a panel discussion by Rotarian Mitch Kennedy, Assistant City Manager for the city of Spartanburg, James Cheek, Assistant Public Defender, and Brad Steinecke, assistant Director of local history at the Spartanburg County Public Libraries. These gentlemen informed the Club on their work with the Spartanburg African American Heritage & Cultural Committee, chaired by the 1st black mayor of Spartanburg, James Talley. There was an overview of the Southside Cultural Monument, designed to tell the story of the 1960's urban renewal project. Groundbreaking will be in April and the monument will serve as a gateway to the Southside. Donations to support this effort can be made to the Spartanburg African American Fund at the Spartanburg County Foundation
