Last Week's Program

Ben Hall, founder of Big Bens Desserts, shared his story of growing up in Wellford, playing football at Byrnes, being named the #1 tight end in the country, playing for Clemson and then several NFL teams along with a European league. He credits his summer camp experience at the Citadel in helping shape his life. After football he wanted to inspire kids to lead a better life, like had been done for him. It took a leap of faith and banana pudding for him to do it. In 2014 he left the security of a job and turned to baking so that could "give people a chance to be bigger than themselves."
