Speaker of the Week - Steve Pfaff, National Weather Service

Steve Pfaff serves as the Warning Coordination Meteorologist (WCM) at the National Weather Service (NWS) office in Wilmington, NC. As the WCM since 2008, he is responsible for promoting weather safety outreach and awareness to the public. Steve is also responsible for providing emergency and decision support services to Emergency Management as well as a multitude of local, state, and federal partners.

He first arrived at NWS Wilmington, NC as a Senior Forecaster in 1998. Steve was also a Journeyman Forecaster at NWS Corpus Christi, TX from 1994-1998. Prior to his NWS career, he worked at WNBC-TV in New York, where he prepared the forecast and graphics for Al Roker. Steve was also an Asst. Environment Scientist at GPU Nuclear in Forked River, NJ. Steve received his degree in Meteorology from Kean University in Union, NJ in 1994.

Rotarian of the Week - Pete Little

Pete was born on August 3rd and joined Rotary in 1981. He is a graduate of W.F. Dykes High School in Atlanta, GA, The Citadel in Charleston, SC, and University of Southern California in Los Angeles, CA. He is currently the Volunteer Coordinator on staff at Hobcaw Barony. He is married to Sandra (Sandy); they have four children and six grandchildren. In his spare time he enjoys boating, hiking, birding, and he is a master naturalist. He also enjoys sports and photography.
